

Poetry Terms*

Vocabulary Needed to Analyze (i.e., “Torture a Confession Out”) a Poem

Narrator: the person or “voice” telling the story or relating the description; the “speaker”

Point of view: the perspective from which the poem is presented

- First person: The speaker is a character in the poem and tells it from his/her own point of view.
- Third person: The speaker is not a character in the poem and tells of other characters or events from a separate (or omniscient) point of view.

Tone: the author’s (or narrator’s) feelings about the subject matter

Mood: the feeling the poem creates in the reader

Imagery: description that appeals to any of the five senses

Figurative Language: language that uses comparisons and non-literal meanings

- Simile: comparison that uses a specific word of comparison: like, as, than
- Metaphor: a comparison in which one thing is said to be another thing
- Extended Metaphor: a comparison that is carried throughout the poem as a unifying element
- Personification: a metaphor in which a non-human thing is given human characteristics
- Symbol: a thing that represents or suggests something besides or beyond itself
- Irony: incongruity between expectation and outcome
  - Verbal: words that suggest the opposite of their literal meaning (e.g., sarcasm)
  - Situational: when the opposite of what is expected happens
  - Dramatic: when the audience (reader, listener, viewer) knows something a character in work doesn’t know
- Allusion: implied or indirect reference (to an historical event or character, a work of art or literature, or anything supposed to be generally understood)

Poetic Devices

- Alliteration: repetition of initial consonant sounds
- Assonance: repetition of vowel sounds in lines of poetry
- Repetition: words, phrases, or ideas in a poem that are repeated
  - Refrain: a regularly recurring phrase or verse in a poem
- Parallel Structure: phrases or lines of similar construction found at various points in a poem
- Rhyme: two or more lines of poetry that have the same ending sounds
- Rhetorical Question: a question that does not require an answer; the effect is achieved just by asking the question
- Analogy: illustrating one idea through a more well-known idea, which has similarities to the first

Stanza: a group of lines in poetry that appear together, separated from other lines

Free Verse: poetry with no regular meter, rhyme, or line length

Cross-reference: a reference made in one literary work to an element that appears in another literary work. (Poems in Spoon River Anthology, for example, cross-reference each other.)

Theme: A general statement about life that is illustrated by a poem or story

- not a moral
- not a piece of advice or a warning
- not an expression of right/wrong, good/bad
- must be stated as a complete sentence

*Hey, did you notice that many of these terms apply to ALL literature (stories, plays, novels, etc.), not just poetry?

Poetry Analysis: Torturing a Confession Out of a Poem*

Title of Poem _____ Poet _____

What is the point of view of the poem?

Who is the narrator? What do you know about him/her?

What is the tone of the poem? (How does the narrator feel about the subject matter?)

What mood is created by the poem? (How do you feel while reading/hearing the poem?)

Paraphrase/Overview: What happens in the poem?

Imagery: List the sensory images (visual, auditory, touch, taste, smell).

Figurative Language: List similes, metaphors, personification, and symbols that appear in the poem.

Poetic Devices: List examples of alliteration, assonance, repetition, rhyme.

Allusions: Identify any implied or indirect references in the poem.

Irony: Identify instances of verbal, situational, or dramatic irony in the poem.

Theme: Write a sentence (that does not state a moral, give advice, or identify right and wrong) that expresses a generalization about life that is supported by the poem.