

Name: _____

Assigned Book # _____

Independent Reading Schedule

Fahrenheit 451 by Ray Bradbury is a reasonably short book; however, there are state tests and a spring break during the time we read it, so the schedule may change a bit. You should average 10 pages of reading per day. Many of you will be ahead of schedule, but no one should fall behind! There will be discussions, quizzes, and writing assignments along the way. Use these dates to schedule your reading and keep track of your progress:

March 21/22: Book Assignments

Read to page _____ by next time.
("Goodbye...")

March 23/24: pages _____

("Every fireman, sooner or later, hits this.")

March 28-31: Year-end Writing Exam

Read pages _____ during this time.
("He slammed the door.")

April 3-7: Spring Break

Read pages _____ during this time.
("Where ignorant armies clash by night.")

April 10-13: Year-end ELA Exam

Read pages _____ during this time.
("...in the long winter to come.")

April 14/17: pages _____

("...where he was walking now.")

April 18/19: Finish reading Fahrenheit 451

("When we reach the city.")

April 20/21: Objective Test

Synthesis Essay assignment/discussion

April 24/25: The Gallery of Censorship

April 26/27: Beatty vs. Faber

April 28/May 1: Turn in books & all assignments.

"There must be something in books, something we can't imagine, to make a woman stay in a burning house; there must be something there. You don't stay for nothing."

— Ray Bradbury, Fahrenheit 451

"It was a pleasure to burn"...

...through all this literature with you this year!