Why Read?

Why read? Well that's your own opinion. If your a couch potato you probably don't even know reading exists. But if you're like me you ^{must} love to read! The 2 best things I love about reading is if you know how to read you can do anything in life and reading also lets you learn because almost everything is explained with words you need to know how to read. Maybe computers and T.V. are a lot faster then reading but they don't take you on an adventure or you can't take your time to go through T.V. like you can with books. But the reason I read is because it's fun.

Very nice work!
