

Name _____ Period ____ Date _____ Topic: _____

Library Research: Mythology

Sources: Find at least two (2) library sources (NOT on the Internet) about your topic.

Title of Book: _____ Author(s): _____
First and last names – spelled correctly!

City of Publication: _____ State: _____ ©Year: _____

Publishing Company: _____ Pages you used: _____
(e.g., pages 24-29 and/or page 156)

Summary = main points + important details

Summary of the information the source provided: _____

Direct quotation(s) from source that illustrates important points or main ideas about your assigned topic:

“ _____ ”
“ _____ ”

Title of Book: _____ Author(s): _____
First and last names – spelled correctly!

City of Publication: _____ State: _____ ©Year: _____

Publishing Company: _____ Pages you used: _____
(e.g., pages 24-29 and/or page 156)

Summary = main points + important details

Summary of the information the source provided: _____

Direct quotation(s) from source that illustrates important points or main ideas about your assigned topic:

“ _____ ”
“ _____ ”

Connections: Besides the character or topic you've been assigned, what other mythological characters/topics will you have to know something about in order to write a coherent argumentative essay? (Example: If your topic was Monsters, you would probably mention the heroes who battled or killed those monsters. If your topic is Eros, you would mention that his mother is Aphrodite.)

How do you pronounce the characters' names? (Examples: Penelope = Pen-EL-o-PEE; Hades = HAY-DEES; Amphitrite = AM-fi-TRY-TEE; Erydice = YER-i-DIS-EE; Psyche = SIKE-EE). You have to be able to say the names aloud!

Write the story of your myth as if you were telling it to a group of second graders (genre: children's literature).

Mythology was used to teach lessons about morality and culture to the people of Ancient Greece – kind of like religion does for us today. What lessons do you think your myth was used to teach?
